Translation Services and Talent Recording Supervision

Sam has specialized in translating copy for thousands of automotive TV, radio, and social media spots. Along with translating scripts, Sam supervises the studio recording and mixing session and assists the producers with the post audio and video work.

Sam has translated and supervised spots for automotive and insurance companies, retail businesses, restaurant chains, international food companies, and non-profit institutions. He also translates online training courses for the automotive industry and the petroleum industry and voices the courses as well.

His excellent command of both the English and Spanish language allows him to accurately communicate nuanced technical material into Spanish without sounding wooden or literal. Besides technical work, Sam has also translated into Spanish short treatises on philosophy and religion, his most notable work being "The Moslem Doctrine of God" by Samuel Zwemer.
